SEABODY

Luxury Spa & Retail Skincare

SEABODY™

Who is Seabody?

We are a science lead luxury skincare and supplement brand founded in Ireland in 2021 by Dr. Helena McMahon.

A biotech company developing formulations and luxury skincare products derived from Seaweed which is grown and harvested in our own hatchery in the West-coast of Ireland

Our formulations are enriched by our unique proprietary bioactives and work in harmony with a selection of handpicked active ingredients to ensure all our products are highly effective and have a luxury feel.

The Founder

Dr. Helena McMahon

A trailblazing cellular biochemist, who grew up on Ireland's Atlantic coast, Helena is the driving force behind SEABODY'S science-led, sustainable solutions.

Helena's expansive knowledge on cell biology, sustainability, and natural product innovation fuelled the discovery and scientific validation of SEABODY'S next generation marine bioactives.

SEABODY'S

Beauty & Wellness System

Breakthrough skincare formulations designed to prevent and reverse signs of skin ageing, whilst protecting against irritation and inflammation.

A System based on Science & the Sea

Seabody 360 approach to health and beauty integrates biotechnology and holistic wellness, creating next gen skin care and supplements powered by novel high efficacy marine bioactives isolated from algae.

Our Approach

Cultivate & Harvest

Isolate

Design

Formulate

Harnessing the Power of the Ocean

Focused upon the development of a cascading isolation process in which 100% of the seaweed is converted into key bioactive ingredients with zero waste. SEABODY has developed a suite of clean, sustainable bioprocessing technologies for the release of key bioactive ingredients from a variety of macroalgae (seaweeds) including Fucus vesiculosus, Laminaria digitata and Ascophyllum nodosum.

The isolated bioactives have evolved over millennia to have a range of functions which ensure the survival of the algae in the wild. Synthesis of these molecules is not currently feasible and can only be accessed via isolation from algae. SEABODY has created a platform of proprietary clean marine certified organic and vegan bioactive and functional ingredients which we use in our skin care and nutraceuticals.

Effective Skincare

Maraderm™

80% increase in collagen production by dermal cells in laboratory studies.
Proven to stimulate collagen, support the skin's microbiome, and elastin synthesis

Maraderm™

Each SEABODY skincare formulation is enriched with a super-concentrate of our hero ingredient Maraderm™ which has 7 molecular skin targets supporting collagen, elastin, hydration, texture and smoothness

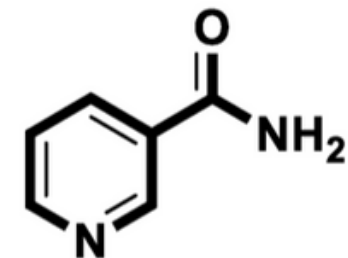

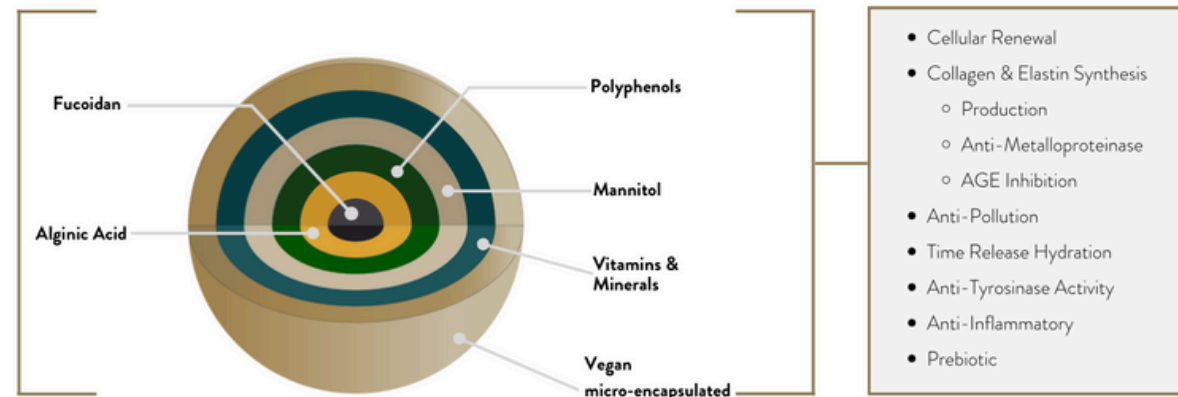

Why are we different?

Our founder lead scientist team have used the power of biotechnology and green chemistry to develop high potency next generation bioactives from algae.

These isolated bioactives have evolved over millennia to have a range of functions which ensure the survival of the algae in the wild and have benefits for human health and skin.

In our formulas, we complement the bioactives with key co-ingredients to create multi-acting products for a future of healthy, youthful skin.

Love it!

Really love my SEABODY Day Serum, its one of my new everyday essentials in my skincare routine. My skin feels and stays really hydrated all day.

Lauren M.

Verified Buyer

I have tried nearly every other night serum out there! This one is fabulous. It is easily absorbed, non greasy and a little goes a long way. My skin feels so much more hydrated since I started using this serum.
